++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
Cold and breezy with wintry showers in the east.

Today:
Cold with further showers, some wintry over hills, in central and eastern parts, prolonged in the southeast. Drier further west with some sunshine and feeling bitter in the strong winds.

Tonight:
Showers feeding inland from North Sea and turning wintry over hills with ice risk, these most persistent in southeast. Cold with widespread frost and isolated freezing fog patches in northwest.

Wednesday:
Cold with further showers, some wintry over hills, in eastern parts, and more prolonged again in the southeast. Drier further west with some sunshine, but less windy than today.

Outlook for Thursday to Saturday:
Remaining cold with a weakening band of rain, sleet and some snow pushing southeastwards. Showers either side of this feature will be wintry, with these heaviest in eastern areas.
